

KWAR To Honor John F. Kennedy Sun. Afternoon

It is one year ago tomorrow, Nov. 22, that the 35th President of the United States, John F. Kennedy, was tragically assassinated in Dallas, Tex.

In memory of the late President, Radio Station KWAR-FM is broadcasting a special program tomorrow afternoon beginning at 1 p.m.

The first part of this program, "The Kennedy Wit," will be narrated by newsman David Brinkley with an introduction by United Nations representative Adlai Stevenson. It features excerpts from the 1960 campaign, later press conferences, Kennedy's feelings about the presidency and his family life.

Part two of the special program will be a recording of the solemn pontifical requiem mass in memory of John F. Kennedy, celebrated by Richard Cardinal Cushing in Boston, Mass., on Sunday, Jan. 19, 1964.

Also featured will be Mozart's "Requiem," performed by the Boston Symphony Orchestra under the musical direction of Erich Leinsdorf.

Debaters Attend Bradley Tourney

Four Wartburg debate teams are participating this weekend in the largest national debate tournament in the United States. It is being held at Bradley University, Peoria, Ill.

The tournament is the 18th Phi Kappa Delta National Debate Tournament and features, along with regular debating, extemporaneous speaking, interpretive reading, listening and competitive discussion.

Basie Says College Crowds Swing

BY HELENE KURTZ

"I like college crowds because they're 'swinging' and they often know more about my music because they listen to records," Count Basie said during intermission of the Wartburg Pop's Concert.

Count Basie and his excellent 15-piece jazz band performed for an under-capacity audience in the Chapel-auditorium Thursday.

"The Count" said that although the large jazz band sound isn't "in," he, of course, has always been for it and the sound seems to be gaining in popularity again.

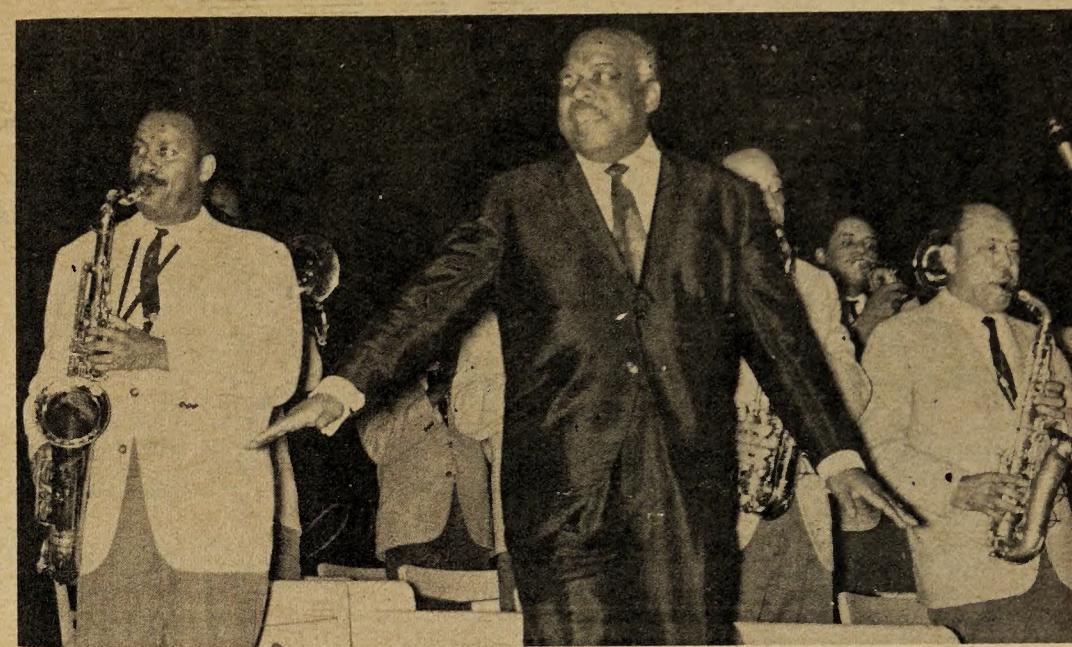

"I HAVE NO original members from my earliest days in the group now, but we really don't change personnel too often," Basie said. "I have one musician that's been with me 25 years, another 17, one 12 and others less than a year."

Basie and his band displayed excellent musicianship. Often the quality of a jazz musician is not technically so precise as it might be, but this group certainly was far superior in musical performance.

Trumpets and trombones were a jazz man's dream. All solos were good. Students are still speculating as to what the top note was that trumpet player hit. It might have been a "G" above high "C."

THE AUDIENCE perhaps heard more music at a pops concert Thursday than they have for years. There was much less talking by the personnel than in previous concerts.

Music was interrupted with the appearance of so-called comedian Rusty Ryan. The audience perhaps showed its appreciation of his first few hilarious jokes too much, because he kept on too long.

One can't miss commenting on the scene-stealer, Sonny. Was Sonny a drummer or a twirler? With those drumsticks flying in the air so much, one wondered. He was a flamboyant showman and musician.

SONNY PAYNE, his full name, was the show-stealing show-off from the first parting of the curtain. It was difficult to keep one's eyes off him, and the audience eagerly waited throughout the entire concert for his solo in the final number.

Basie was just as impersonal off-stage as he was to his audience. Apparently he's more interested in presenting a musical show than a comedy, which he certainly shouldn't be criticized for.

"I really don't want to say too much personal about myself because I'm writing a book, and nothing would be news to the readers if I answered all your questions," Basie told a group backstage.

BASIE SAID THAT if he worked several hours a couple days a week, his book might be sent to the publisher within two months.

Things to look for in his book will concern his early background in the music world and big moments in his life.

One might think that musicians like Basie are treated to a steak dinner after working so hard in a concert, but many Wartburg students had an opportunity to talk to some of the band members in the Den, where they were feasting on soup and sandwiches.

Touring Choir Returns; Concert Sun. Evening

Returning to Waverly from their annual fall tour early tomorrow morning, the Wartburg Choir will complete its itinerary with a home concert at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the Chapel-auditorium.

Selections on the program include "Shout to the Lord" (Psalm 100) by Johann Pachelbel, "Herr, Nun Lasset Du Deinen Diener in Friede Fahren" by J. C. Bach and "O Clap Your Hands" (Psalm 47) by Orlando Gibbons.

"The Spirit Also Helpeth Us" by J. S. Bach, "Let Us Praise Him!" by Johann Eberlin, "Our Father" by Alexander Gretchaninoff, "God's Son Hath Made Me Free" by Edvard Grieg will also be sung.

"Come, Holy Ghost" by George Schumann, "Es Sungen Drei Engel" by Hans Friedrich Micheelsen and "O Praise the Lord of Heaven" (Psalm 148) by R. Vaughan Williams will complete the program.

Optional selections are "Be Joyful, O Earth" by Dale Warland and "Only Begotten Son" by Gretchaninoff.

Students will be admitted by presenting their activity tickets. Admission for the public is one dollar.

Two long-playing records of the choir may be ordered and purchased at Director Edwin Liebmann's office.

Church College Community-Why?

Editor's Note:

This article was written by Wartburg's delegates to the American Lutheran Church Student Conference. The conference will be held at Pacific Lutheran University, Tacoma, Wash., over Thanksgiving vacation.

Here I am, in bed, and I just can't fall asleep. I can't help thinking about my purpose in life. I like my job. It certainly is a challenge. But it seems to me that there is more to life than the mechanics of daily living.

That reminds me -- my son was inquiring about college the other day. I remember when I was in college. Ah, yes, it must have been almost fifteen years ago when I graduated. I wonder what Schmidt is doing now. I wonder if he did enter the ministry.

He certainly did have some trying experiences concerning his faith. What all of us didn't have to listen to during some of those periods! Some kind of common bond seemed to carry us through times like those. This unity enabled us to increase our understanding of the heterogeneity of human character.

PERHAPS SCHMIDTY discovered after all that he could serve in some other way than actual church work. I guess some of his ideas of service did rub off on me. Service seems to be what life is all about anyway.

I wonder how different my life would be now if I had gone to a different school. There was a feeling generated at my Christian liberal arts college that sticks with me. My wife thinks there's nothing like the state school. She certainly did receive a good education at the U.

But, somehow, it seems that many of the experiences which meant so much to me in school would have been missing in such an environment. I couldn't quite understand why those dedicated professors wanted to stay around that little place when they could have been earning more somewhere else.

DOC SWENSEN could have had a job anywhere, with his knowledge of science. Still he tried to make top-notch scientists out of some of us. He and the other profs helped to create an atmosphere I couldn't have found anywhere else.

We really used to get excited about being on the frontier of the contemporary church. I realized that the church was not stagnant, in form or thought, but that it continues to relate itself to modern man.

Somehow, college freed me that I might search for truth. I was free to become committed.

Dr. Paul Dressel.

Dr. Dressel has written extensively in the area of evaluation and counseling.

The Rev. William Scott of the First Baptist Church at Oelwein will speak at convocation the Tuesday following Thanksgiving vacation. He has visited the Congo and will discuss the mission of the church in that country.

CONVOCATION THURSDAY will feature a panel discussion of Pastor Scott's presentation. Panel moderator will be the Rev. Waldemar Gies, Religion Department.

The Rev. Lester Dahlen, staff member of the Board of World Missions of the American Lutheran Church, sophomore Emile Zola and senior Dan Litzer will serve as members of the panel.

Accidents Are Big News

We Americans like to do things up in a big way. Take accidents for instance -- traffic accidents. Two years ago our national death toll was greater than the total number of Americans killed in action in the Revolution, War of 1812, Spanish-American War and Korean War put together.

That's really doing things up pretty big, isn't it? And it looks as if those figures may get even more impressive in times to come. In Iowa and Wisconsin, as well as in almost every other state in the Union, traffic deaths are at an all-time high. And the holiday season is just beginning.

IT WON'T BE long now until most students will begin the first of the holiday vacation. We need a rest, and most of us can't wait to get home. But maybe our haste will get the best of us.

Although college students are known for their

Whenever you see a girl go through the lunch line with her coat on and buttoned up, chances are she has cut-offs on underneath. Girls are sneaky!

A "gunner" can be defined as a student who is going to study during Thanksgiving vacation.

ability to establish new records -- in stuffing telephone booths, smashing pianos and riding on ferris wheels -- let's hope we don't make ourselves known as traffic death toll recordbreakers.

Thirty-six per cent of all American youths who die between the ages of 15 and 24 are killed in automobile accidents. That figure represents four times the amount exacted by the worst disease in this age group. So it looks as though we're fighting a pretty tough battle.

WITH A LITTLE foresight and good sense, it is possible to alleviate many needless accidents. We'll naturally be trying to cram as much as possible into those four days of vacation, but, if one of us is the person who's doing the driving, let's make sure not to overdo it.

Thanksgiving is less than a week away. We all have much for which to be thankful. Hopefully, it won't be a close call from a traffic accident.

Folkerts' Folly

Who Has The Answer?

BY JIM FOLKERTS

For as long as I have been a student at Wartburg College this situation has existed. Students are always discussing it. This year it seems to be in the spotlight even more than in the past.

It seems that 99 per cent of the student body is against the present ruling on this issue. Why isn't something done about it?

There are several reasons for this disregard, a few of which are:

1. It has been this way from time eternal.
2. It seems that this is what the Christian should believe and follow.

3. An upper - crust element wouldn't hear of any change if the students did make a plea.

4. IT WOULD CAUSE a great deal of neglect of studies.

5. One of the nicest buildings on campus would eventually be destroyed.

6. High school hot - doggers would overflow our beautiful campus.

7. The whole moral standards of students would gradually decline.

The preceding reasons have been carefully analyzed by several Wartburg committees. It was their unanimous decision that it would be quite stupid to let these forceful facts be tossed away on a different ruling that would give no foreseeable benefit.

HOWEVER, I tend to disagree! Now it is very true that those reasons should be taken under consideration, but I would like to present the other side.

If these reasons could be analyzed as carefully, and by as many committees, I am sure this issue might start to change around Wartburg.

Besides, this tradition is not one to be proud of. It was this way back in the beginning, but this is today. Also, with a reverse decision on this issue, we would help to stamp out creeping socialism.

Now here are a few of the reasons for a new proposal adopted by the 12 newly formed committees working on this problem. They are as follows:

1. It would result in a more swinging campus, much more attractive to potential students.

2. A FINAL, NEEDED center of activity would be achieved.

3. It would add greatly to the mental ease and relaxation of the average student.

4. It would save students many coins.

5. Students would get needed exercise.

6. IT WOULD BE A better environment for most students than is now afforded by night spots, bushes, etc.

7. It would give the student body a more active role.

8. It would give everyone a chance to make more stable relationships with various other groups.

9. We could compete with other schools of our size who have already changed over.

10. The administration and staff would also find this beneficial to them.

As I see it these reasons are as worthy as the previous ones, and they need to be considered fully. It is our duty to look into this problem (?) more deeply, take a stand and defend it.

Votapek Outstanding In Sunday's Concert

Votapek clearly brought this out in his presentation.

LISTENING TO THE artistry of Ralph Votapek, one could almost close his eyes and imagine Mozart himself playing his Sonata or Debussy his Etudes. The pianist was not the prominent factor of which the audience was aware.

In each number the style of the work was dominant. One could feel the love this young man had for his work, though one doubts whether he would call it work.

This attitude was evident especially in the sudden pianissimos and powerful fortissimos -- it was surprising that the instrument did not need adjustment during intermission.

THE SHEER TASK of memorization of these great works could require a mental giant. Yet Votapek went beyond this and played three encores. The young pianist gave evidence that he is far in advance of his generation in musical maturity.

Ralph Votapek is a pianist with "something" to give. The audience last Sunday night took all he had and more.

they pay 50 cents every semester in support of the intramural program.

FURTHERMORE, THE Senate is now recommending to the administration that each student be required to pay an additional 50 cents per semester into the student government fund and that this additional money be allocated to the respective classes.

The ends resulting from the revenue are many (e.g., physical equipment, an intramural program, travel expenses, etc.), and the proposed allocation to the classes will surely improve the Prom and the Homecoming floats if it is approved.

However, now the question is whether or not these ends intend to justify the means. It seems that the student government tax becomes unfair, in spite of the benefits, whenever it endangers any student's financial ability to attend Wartburg College.

Since the college caters to students from lower income backgrounds, this criterion seems especially important. I do not feel that the present tax of $1.25 per semester presents such a problem.

A SECOND QUESTION on student rights might center on representation. Do 20 representatives have the authority to spend $800 from the student body treasury on a piano for the Union lounge?

I feel that elected representatives should have the power to spend the money entrusted to them without taking a poll of the student body in each instance.

Many have questioned the plan to purchase a piano, claiming that the piano might be abused or might not be used. I feel that if students are provided with something that has value above the functional element, they will respect and use it in that light.

ALSO, SOME students have questioned the sacrifice of the individual's choice as to whether or not he will attend student body meetings.

Some may feel that the sacrifice is too great because their time or because the meetings do not include enough actual "business."

In regard to student body meetings, I believe that the Senate's responsibility to serve the student body is greater than the students' right to attend or not to attend.

AND ALTHOUGH a football film might not seem to be in line with a student body meeting, it seems to find justification if it serves the latent function of enhancing school spirit.

Most conflicts between the rights of the Senate and individual rights cannot be resolved without compromise. I assure you that your Senators are being very conscientious in their treatment of such conflicts.

Runners Take 16th In Meet As Season Ends

BY DALE WEHLING

Wartburg and Luther turned in fine performances last Saturday in the NCAA College Division cross country meet at Wheaton, Ill., as Wartburg finished 16th and Luther 8th.

Wartburg, getting good performances from its entire squad, had the best balance of any school in the meet.

Gaylen Fick led the Knights in 75th place, followed by Jon Thie- man in 79th, Arlyn Ristau in 97th, Jim Rasmussen in 104th, Bruce Kettner in 111th, Mike Hughes in 114th and Roger Stufflebeam in 124th.

Nearly all of the Knights entered cut their times considerably from last year's performances at Wheaton.

Ristau cut nearly a minute and 15 seconds off his Wheaton time of a year ago.

Luther's Gene Tacke turned in an outstanding performance as he ran the four miles in 20:02 and finished third.

Kentucky State, Frankfort, won the meet. Ed Schneider of North-east Missouri State Teachers, Kirksville, won the individual title.

Grinnell Defeats Wartburg Women

Grinnell defeated Wartburg Women's Athletic Association field hockey team last Saturday. Wartburg's predominantly freshman team went down with a score of 5-1. Marty Dixon, Grinnell center, scored three of the team's five points.

Wartburg's lone goal was scored by the freshman center Lynn Frazier. The game was played here.

JASPERS SAID he is still looking for more depth, although football players are now beginning to fill the ranks since the grid season has closed.

Jaspers feels a lot of work has to be done on defense. He said he thinks the Knights have good speed, but still must prove their rebounding ability.

Top reserves who will see a lot of action are senior Doyle Burn of Dumont and junior college transfer Al N college transfer Al Mews of Williamsburg.

Kurtt says his freshman squad is probably the best he has ever had. They have the size, but still lack some of the desired speed.

Becker's Blunders

Season Ends With Bang

BY MIKE BECKER

Once again we close the football season with a bang, in more ways than one. In our final game against Buena Vista, the Knights were tied 14-14. This was a game which saw many oddities—an enemy fullback weighing about 260 pounds, a penalty called on our bench and a blocked extra point try which bounded into the hands of the kicker, who proceeded to run it for the point anyway.

Our defense again held on a goal-line stand. Bob Nielsen tied Wendy Liemohn's career pass reception record, carving for himself a place in Wartburg history.

This was a typical football season at Wartburg. We finally came around at the end of the year. Once again we had our outstanding players, but with a few exceptions we had no team play. The coaching staff, strengthened by the addition of Line Coach Bondhus, continued to be somewhat disorganized.

The alumni gave their halfhearted support, which was better than a majority of the students did. The cheerleaders tried new stunts to no avail. It seems as though we tried a lot but were not really successful with anything.

I guess everybody has grown used to the idea that we can't be the best, so we might just as well be content to finish somewhere in the middle. I hope not, but this is the way it appears.

Ron Mennen is the only footballer from Wartburg that I can pick with a clear conscience to make the all-conference team. Paul Zietlow and Gayle Newlon could make the second team. If they weren't freshmen, Doug Sires and Al Anderson might have had a chance. But wait till next year.

My final I-M ratings are as follows: (These are rated by which teams I think were the best, regardless of forfeit, etc.):

1. North Hall.
2. Ketha.
3. Alpha-Married Men Vollmer House
5. Clinton III Grossmann II

My first team all-American follows. Not having played against all these guys, I consulted several gentlemen who had.

E--Al Meuws, North Hall

E--Ray Bye, Ketha

T--Paul Striepe, North Hall

T--Dick Adix, Off-campus

G--Ned Vaughn, Clinton III

G--Laird Yock, Vollmer House

C--John Hougard, Gamma-Cotta-Grossmann Basement and I.

QB--Bill Westphal, Gamma-Cotta-Grossmann Basement and I.

HB--Dave Long, Grossmann II.

HB--Rich Medlar, Clinton II.

FB--Jerry Zehr, Ketha.

These men are not necessarily in their regular positions.

Looking ahead to the basketball season, I dare not say much about the varsity's chances, lest I have my season pass torn from me. However, the freshmen look as though they might have their best ball since my freshman year.

They have height, jumpers, ball handlers and plenty of shooters. The only thing lacking is an important ingredient, teamwork, which has been notably missing from Wartburg teams since I've come to school. Of course, I'm not giving them much of a chance, jumping on them already. We'll have to sit back and watch from the bleachers.

The frosh team is usually the team to suffer most from this gunnerism. It seems a frosh figures the only way the coach will notice him is if he shoots every time he gets the ball. Too often some of the frosh do just that.

Congratulations are in order for Gayle Newlon, Gary Huth, Dale Fridley and Ron Mennen for receiving mention in the Des Moines Register as our outstanding players.

Also congratulations to Huth and Fridley again, and also to Del Hennings, Paul Zietlow, Bob Nielsen, Rich Howie and Jerry Schrader for their outstanding college football careers. Arly Ristau, the lone harrier who will be graduating this year, should also receive congratulations for a fine season.

Knights End With Tie; Finish In 7th Place

BY BILL GLITZ

A tie for seventh place in the Iowa Conference was the best the Wartburg Knights could garner as they tied with the Buena Vista Beavers, 14-14, last Saturday at Storm Lake.

If the Knights had won this game, they could have tied for fifth place in the conference, but they were hard-pressed to tie the offensive-minded Beavers on Saturday.

Two Knights did close out their seasons successfully, however. Bobby Nielsen tied Wendy Liemohn's pass-catching record for a career at Wartburg. Nielsen caught three passes Saturday to end up with 65 in his career for the Orange and Black.

RON MENNEN was rewarded for the outstanding defensive job this year by being named to the NAIA all-district football team in the state of Iowa. Mennen is only a sophomore, meaning that he will still have two years to play for the Knights.

Nielsen finished the season as the Knights' top rusher with 228 yards in 62 carries. Nielsen also took team scoring honors with 25 points and was the team's leading punter with a 33.2 yard average for 51 punts.

Dick Basham was the top passer on the squad with 62 completions in 137 attempts for 714 yards and three touchdowns. Basham also led in total offense with 727 yards.

PAUL ZIETLOW wound up as Basham's best target for his passes with 23 receptions for 284 yards.

Wartburg ended the season with a 2-6-1 overall record and 2-5-1 in the Iowa Conference.

Centennial III Volleyball Team

Tops WAA Tournament Standings

Two teams came through Wednesday's Women's Athletic Association volleyball tournaments unblemished. Centennial III and Centennial Ground - I-II top the standings with records of 3-0 and 2-0, respectively.

After a poor start, Centennial III fired up and beat Wartburg I-II-IV in two straight games. The winner's cause was helped by nine straight points on Sue Sutliff's serves in the second game.

Centennial Ground - I-II defeated Hebron III easily in two games. It was the second set of the night for Hebron III. In its first match, it defeated Off-campus in two games.

Six spirited Wartburg III players soundly defeated Vollmer Ground-II-III. Two games were all they needed to bring in the win against the Vollmer team, which consisted of nine players, six of whom are physical education majors.

Biggest upset of the night was the game of Vollmer vs. Faculty. Previously undefeated, the Faculty team lost to the formerly winless Vollmer team. The first game had to go into extra minutes with Vollmer leading 8-7.

Faculty pulled through with a 10-8 victory after replaying the end due to a technicality. Vollmer I came on strong in the two remaining games to take the win.

Hebron Ground-I failed to show up for its game against Hebron II.

39 Paintings On Display In Fine Arts

A collection of 39 paintings expressing the life of Christ in contemporary idiom are now on display at the Fine Arts Building.

They represent a cross-section of style from realistic and impressionistic to abstract. Media includes oils, watercolors and other print techniques.

"It is interesting to note," commented Miss Helen Wright, Art Department, "that there are many influences of artists of the early part of the Twentieth Century evident in the display."

Iowa and Illinois artists are represented in the collection, which will remain on campus until Dec. 4. All of the paintings are for sale to the public.
